

THE BRENDAN MARROCCO
ROAD TO RECOVERY TRUST

The 2nd Annual Brendan Marrocco Road to Recovery Trust Golf Classic

Monday, April 30, 2012 ♦ Battleground Country Club ♦ Manalapan, NJ

It was in the early morning hours on Easter Sunday 2009, when Brendan and his platoon left their base to bring other US Soldiers to the Siniyah Joint Security Stations in Iraq. On their way back to their base, Brendan was driving the last MRAP in a four vehicle convoy when it was hit with a sophisticated roadside bomb, known as an "anti-armor IED" or an "explosive formed projectile" (EFP). The armor piercing projectile came through the middle of the driver's side door where Brendan was sitting. Brendan sustained severe, permanent and life changing injuries. His injuries include: amputation of both arms and both legs, severed left carotid artery; broken nose, left eye socket and facial bones; loss of eight teeth; shrapnel to the left eye and face; severe laceration to the face; burns to the neck and face; and a pierced left eardrum. Brendan has undergone 20 surgeries to date.

Since last year's Golf Classic, Brendan has returned home to Staten Island and is now living in a home designed and built especially for him. It is handicapped accessible with many features that will allow Brendan the capability of living on his own.

Although Brendan is home, he is still undergoing exhaustive Physical Therapy and is back on the waiting list to undergo a double arm transplant. He understands that he must continue to work hard and stay focused so that he can live as normal of a life as possible. Brendan continues to be an inspiration to so many for his dedication and perseverance through it all.

"The 2nd Annual Brendan Marrocco Road To Recovery Trust Golf Classic", is intended to raise money for Brendan's Trust Fund so that he can continue to focus on his recovery without facing a financial burden regarding uncovered medical expenses or upkeep of his new home. It will give him the assurance that he will be able to live as best a quality of life as possible.

Battleground, originally designed by Hal Purdy opened in 1961 as a 7,000 yard par 72 facility. Beginning in 2002 through 2004 the course was redesigned by the Northeast Collaborative, specifically Robert McNeil. The new design features a variety of golf holes from long traditional par 4's to a breathtaking par 3 over water. The renovations are complete and the 18-hole golf course is still nearly 7,000 yards, but now a Par 71 challenging all golfers of varying abilities.
